LONDON, May 22.—The despatch concerning the action of the government on the question of the Scotch Reform Bill in the House of Commons last night was inaccurate. The following is the correct report:—Mr. Baxter, member for Montrose, on Monday night, moved as an amendment to the Scotch Reform Bill, that the number of Scotch members of the House of Commons be increased by taking the franchise from some of the small English boroughs. This amendment, which was opposed by the Ministry on Monday night, but which was carried on a division of the House, was last night accepted by Mr. Disraeli. The Premier subsequently proposed, on the part of the Ministry, a new clause, providing that persons excluded from the payment of rates by reason of their poverty be not entitled to vote. The further consideration of the bill was then postponed.

The advance had reached Zoula, and the 5th and 8th Native Infantry already embarked for Bombay, the remainder of the troops, and the stores which were being hastened forward, would be shipped from Zoula as rapidly as possible, and the evacuation of the country would be effected. The wounded were doing well and rapidly becoming convalescent. The troops generally were in good health.

SINGULAR NATURE OF THE WOUND—THE FEELING IN ENGLAND.

If the telegraphic information respecting the character of the injury received by His Royal Highness the Duke of Edinburgh can be depended on, the nation has to be thankful that the life of the Prince has been saved by one of the most extraordinary escapes which has ever been recorded in the history of gunshot wounds. If the ball—which we are told entered the back half an inch from the spine, and in a downward direction—had taken the course which in 999 cases out of every 1,000 it would have taken, it could not have failed to pierce the heart and great vessels, the lungs, diaphragm and intestines, or liver, such an injury to any of the viscera being almost certainly fatal. That it should have traversed a distance of twelve and a half inches on the outside of the ninth rib, and lodged under the skin of the abdomen, without even touching the skin of the peritoneum, is all but incredible, and the fact, if true, will add another to the few extraordinary cases in which balls have glided from their natural direction and taken a totally unexpected course. Cases are on record on which a ball entering a hip came out at the heel, where it entered the temple and passing over the bones of the head lodged at the opposite side. Mr. Lawson narrates a case in which a grain of shot striking the eye passed from side to side under the conjunctiva; and a case was communicated to the Surgical Society of Ireland about a year ago, in which a bullet was removed from the heart of a man who received it in the battle of Salamanca 33 years previously.—Medical Press and Circular.

DEMONSTRATIONS IN LIVERPOOL.

In celebration of the happy escape of His Royal Highness the Duke of Edinburgh from the hand of an assassin, the Christy Minstrel troupe sang the "National Anthem," the audience joining heartily in the demonstration. The two following appropriate verses, written especially for the occasion by Mr. Bernard, a member of the troupe, were introduced:

Near us, O God of all,
Thank Thee with heart and soul,
For our young Prince,
By Thy almighty hand
Snatched in a distant land,
From the assassin's hand,
God save the Prince.

Stay Thou the widow's tears—
A mother fondly fears
For our young Prince.
God speed him back again,
With her long to remain,
And bless her glorious reign,
God save the Queen.

In view of the startling news from Australia regarding the Duke of Edinburgh, the management of the Prince of Wales Theatre very properly thought occasion should be taken to give a revue expression of devotion to the Queen. After the first piece, therefore, the National Anthem was sung, with the following verses added as being highly appropriate to the occasion:

Prince Alfred's life is saved,
The traitor's hand he's braved,
Long may he live.
Welcome him home again,
May we not cheer in vain,
But sing with might and main
Long live the Prince.

Miss Julia Matthews, who sang the verse with splendid power, was interrupted at the mention of Prince Alfred's name, and cheers were given, which continued for several minutes. The majority of the audience rose to their feet, and several occupants of the gallery took off their coats and waved them about in their excitement. The verse had to be several times repeated, the cheering each time being loud and prolonged.

ATROCIOUS MURDER IN RUSSIA.

Details are published in the Russian journals concerning the murder of the Gernarino family at Tamboff. The culprit, a tutor named Gorski, has confessed his guilt. He had gone, he says, to the residence of M. Gernarino, on the 1st of March last, to give a lesson to the son, but without any intention of committing a crime on that day. While he was thus occupied the father went out. Gorski then determined to take advantage of the opportunity. He had carried a revolver and life preserver about with him for a whole week. He at once struck his pupil over the head, and the latter dropped insensible to the ground. On seeing him fall Gorski was seized with remorse, and his first movement was to escape, but, fearing to be discovered, he again beat the boy until his life was extinct. There were three other persons in the house—the mistress, the cook, and a man servant. He first called to the mother, saying that her son was bleeding at the nose, and when she entered the room shot her dead with the pistol. He next summoned the man into the dining room, and killed him in the same manner. Lastly, he fired twice at the cook, wounding her each time, and on her attempting to escape deprived her of life with blows of the life preserver. He waited in the kitchen until the house-keeper returned, and on her arrival shot at her, but as the pistol did not go off he killed her by a single blow with a log of wood. As the mechanism of the revolver had become deranged, he went to get it repaired, and on returning met the coachman and the nursemaid. He might have killed them both, he said, but his hand refused to obey his will. He then suffered so much from remorse that he went home with the intention of committing suicide. He put the barrel of the pistol to his mouth, but the instinct of life was too strong, and he could not carry out his intention. Gorski admits that his object was to rob Gernarino. He is only nineteen years of age, but of most energetic character. He belongs to a Catholic family, but declares that he himself has no religious belief.

An elderly lady, who has just died at Millerton, Taunton, has left twenty pounds sterling for her servants to maintain and care for a favorite cat.

BREITENBURGER MURDER ON THE HIGH SEAS.

At the Police Court, on Tuesday, May 21, the case of the British ship Breitenburger, was brought up for trial. The willful murder of John Dunlop, the crew. It was alleged that the ship was on the high seas on her way home from the West Coast of Africa, some angry words were heard between the prisoner and the deceased in the fore-cabin. Dunlop was also heard to say, "Don't kill me!" Dunlop afterwards went upon deck, and there the prisoner deliberately took an iron baying-pin and beat the unfortunate Dunlop about the head until his skull was smashed in, back and front. Dunlop ran into the fore-cabin, exclaiming, "Oh, my God! I've been struck with an iron baying-pin! I'm dying! I'm dying!" and then fell down and died. Brown was placed under arrest, and looked up in the cabin. On the morning of the 13th instant, just as the ship was entering the Bristol Channel, he made a daring attempt to escape whilst the captain and most of the crew were at breakfast. He tore up his shirt and drawers into strips, and with the latter lashed three boards together; then, tying himself to the boards, he threw himself overboard, hoping to be able, with the assistance of the planks, to swim ashore. He was seen to make this attempt by the man at the wheel, who immediately gave an alarm. A boat was lowered, and some of the crew and the chief officer started in pursuit of the fugitive, who had reached a spot a considerable distance from the ship, when he was picked up in an exhausted state, conveyed back to the vessel, and put in irons. When charged with having killed Dunlop, he said, "What I've done was done in self-defence." He was remanded for the production of further evidence. On Thursday he was committed for trial for willful murder.

A BIGOT.

The following is from a French paper, concerning the loss of an English ship, the Queen of the South.—The Phare de la Loire says that of all the passengers and sailors who perished by the wreck but one body has yet been recovered. A sailor (Pattison) who escaped bound to a plank, saw the captain's wife, a lady passenger and three children, who were all provided with safety belts, floating for a long time. The lady, he particularly remarked, kept her head well above water; but he supposed that they were all dashed to pieces against the rocks. The body which floated ashore near a village on the Brittany coast called La Plaine, was found, from a letter in his pocket, to be the ship's cook. His skull was broken, but his features were calm and almost smiling. The poor man's funeral was the occasion of a conflict between the curia of La Plaine and the civil authorities. The priest said he would not allow a Protestant to be buried in the cemetery. The mayor told him that he had no right to hinder the interment in a part of the cemetery which had not been consecrated by the Catholic Church. The mayor, the English vicar, and the naval officer commanding the station, made arrangements for the funeral. The cure and his vicar, when they saw this, got out of the way, and a servant in charge of the presbytery said he could give out nothing for the obsequies without their orders. The mayor provided a coffin, the hotel keeper a shroud, and a wheelbarrow served for a hearse. It was suggested to the cure that there were some Catholics on board the Queen of the South, and that, for anything known to the contrary, the poor cook might have been one. It is possible, replied the priest, but he was with Protestants, and there being a doubt, I cannot let him enter consecrated ground.

Melancholy Accident at Bermuda.

We are favored with the following extract from a private letter, dated the 8th inst., received by a gentleman in this city by mail from Bermuda last evening, which will be read with melancholy interest by those who were acquainted with the unfortunate parties:—

"There was a sad accident in our waters yesterday near Port Royal. Lieut. and Mrs. Fletcher, her brother (quite a youth) and servant man, a soldier of the 15th regiment, left Port Royal to come to Hamilton to post their letters for home. This was about 2.30 p.m. When only about 40 yards from the shore the boat capsized and went to the bottom, leaving the four poor creatures struggling in the water. The capsizing and sinking of the boat was inferred from an old woman seeing four persons struggling in the water. She screamed as loud as she could for help, but had to go to the 15th company before she could get assistance, and before the camp people reached the shore, no person could be seen on the water, which was as placid as if no such event had been caused by it.

Telegraphic communication was instantly had with the Fleet-Adjutant at Hamilton, and the Naval Commander at Ireland Island, and as promptly as could be there were grapplings and drags brought to use, but only the boat was brought up last night. In it was a lady's parcel and slipper. This morning, it is said, and I believe truly, that Lieut. Fletcher's body was recovered near Boar Island. All the residents in the neighbourhood are doing their best to render all assistance. Mrs. Fletcher was a New Brunswick lady, (Miss Simmond, of St. John), and had not married a twelvemonth. Indeed, when I spoke to her a few days since, I did not think she was a married lady. This is the saddest event that has occurred here for some time. They only arrived in the Himalaya last Monday week. She appeared to be an amiable woman."

A postscript is added, stating that all the bodies had been recovered. Lieut. Fletcher belonged to the 1st battalion of the 15th regiment.

We hear from another source that the servant swam back to the shore and then returned in the hope of picking up Mrs. Fletcher, and in his exertions to do so he became exhausted, sank to the bottom, and thus lost his life in the noble effort.—Hullfax Express.

QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.

The Queen's Birthday was duly honored in this place on Monday, the 25th. There was not such a large assembly as on some former occasions, although the crowd, about 3 o'clock, was very large, and presented a gay and happy appearance. The day throughout being as fine as could be desired. Early in the day the volunteer company, assembled at parade at the splendid grounds of the Agricultural Society, adjoining the Hall, and fired a feu de joie. The various games advertised were entered into with zeal, and passed off very well, and with satisfaction to all who entered as competitors (with one slight exception in the shape of a man coming some fifteen miles with the idea that he could pass for a boy as well as a man to suit his own convenience. However, he finally got into the tight track just in time to save himself from "Corporation Lodgings" for his "misunderstandings").

THE GAMES.

Commenced at the time announced—10 a.m.—and the first entered upon were the Foot Races.—For men over 18 years, 200 yards—Joseph Shuttleworth, 1st prize, $3; J. Ross, 2nd prize, $1. For young men under 18 years, 200 yards—J. Rogers, 1st prize, $2; L. Shuttleworth, 2nd prize, $1. For boys under 13 years, 100 yards—J. Q. Shuttleworth, 1st prize, $1; A. Shuttleworth, 2nd prize, 50 cents.

Hop, Step and Jump.—For men over 18 years—J. Shuttleworth, 1st prize, $2; J. Johnson, 2nd prize, $1. For young men under 18 years—J. Rogers, 1st prize, $1.50; L. Shuttleworth, 2nd prize, $1.

Running Jump.—For young men over 18 years—J. Shuttleworth, 1st prize, $2; J. Johnson, 2nd prize, $1. For young men under 18 years—J. Rogers, 1st prize, $1.50; J. Holborn, 2nd prize, $1.

Running High Jump.—For men over 18 years—J. Shuttleworth, 1st prize, $2; J. Rogers, 2nd prize, $1. For young men under 18 years—J. Rogers, 1st prize, $2; J. Naylor, 2nd prize, $1.

The Phantix Society made their appearance at 2 o'clock, and marched from the Hall through the principal streets, and back again to the Hall, where a platform had been erected in front of the same, and from which speeches were delivered by some of the "rags" representing the leaders of the "P. B." but whatever burlesque was aimed at by the person representing Gen. Roberts, he must have felt that both his speech and actions were a miserable failure.

Base Ball Match came off next, and was entered into with spirit by the lovers of that game. This match was for a ball, and it was agreed at the close that, as the players could not form a regular side game, the ball should be left with the Newmarket Club.

Cricket.—This game was played between the Holland Landing and Newmarket Clubs, for a ball and wickets, and some excellent playing was done. Newmarket took the last, retiring with a score of 80. Holland Landing followed and retired with 84. It was agreed, at the commencement, that the first innings should decide the game if both could not be finished by 7 o'clock. The following is the score:

THE CONCERT IN THE MECHANICS' HALL.

In the evening, was not so well attended, owing, no doubt, to the feeling with regard to the vexed piano question. This troupe would have met with a crowded house had they been on their own responsibility, as it is well known parties have not only put forth the cold shoulder, but did all they could to prevent the concert from being a success.

For the satisfaction of all interested we intend giving a statement of the monies received and expended for the present celebration in our next issue. We fully expected to have been able to do so this week, but owing to some parties not having paid their subscriptions yet, it will be best to stand over for another week.

The republicans here fired salutes in honour of the Chicago nominations. Dispatches from various sections of the country report similar rejoicings.

St. Louis, May 22.—Articles of agreement between the pugilist, Fred. Bussy, of Chicago, and Abe Hickey, the English bruiser, were signed yesterday, and the forfeit money put up. The fight is to take place on the 15th of July, within 15 miles of here.

HAVANA, May 22.—Two British men-of-war have arrived at Port au Prince. They demand the immediate cessation of the persecution of foreigners, otherwise they threaten to bombard the town.

The revolution in Venezuela is on the increase.

Providence, R. I., May 23.—Captain Spooner and son, of Fall River, were drowned in the bay yesterday while fishing.

New York, May 23.—A programme for the Penian invasion of Canada in July next, supplies Gen. O'Neil with 30,000 troops. He attacks Montreal with 15,000 men, marches 5,000 men from Buffalo against Toronto and 3,000 from Detroit to the same point, and sends a body of 10,000 men to their support.

Weston ready for a 5,000 Mile Walk.

Edward Hayson Weston, the pioneer and best known of American pedestrians, is in town, and preparing for another and greater feat than that which he accomplished by his last autumn. This time the pedestrian is to walk from Bangor, Maine, to St. Paul, Minnesota, and return to Buffalo, New York, making in all 5,000 miles. This feat is to be completed in 100 consecutive days. His feat is to be done for a wage of $25,000 a side—to all $50,000. Mr. Goodwin still backing Weston, and Messrs. William B. Perkins, J. G. Corroll, and Eugene M. Ball backing time. A purse of $25,000 is also being raised to be presented to Weston if he should accomplish this mighty feat. As he will not be allowed to walk on Sunday, he will only have 91 consecutive days in which to accomplish the feat, and will have to make the enormous average of 55 1/2 miles daily in order to win. He will also have to walk 100 miles inside of twenty-three consecutive hours five times during the march of the 5,000—that is to say, once in each thousand; and should he fail in doing this feat once, he forfeits all claim to the $25,000 purse, and forfeits $2,000 for each event to the backers of time in the wager. He will also walk fifty miles in ten consecutive hours, once in each thousand miles, making five times in all. In both of these feats he will be allowed two trials at each event. Mr. Weston purposes starting on or about the 8th of August from Bangor, Maine, and terminating at Buffalo, New York, on November 26th. He will be accompanied during the entire walk by six sworn judges, and there will be attached to the carriages an odometer for the correct measurement of the distance. During his walk he will pass through twelve different States, and innumerable cities and towns. The first deposit of $5,000 was made last night in the hands of the stakeholder, Mr. Ellis.—N.Y. Tribune.

Penian Muster in Buffalo.

BUFFALO, May 25.—The 7th Regiment of Penians, six companies, open column, uniform, arms, flags and music, with tolerable precision, marched from the Terrace to St. James' Hall Fair. They excited very little interest among the citizens at large. The fair is expected to be a great success, and opened with a rush. It is on the lottery system, and filled with varieties. Over $10,000 is expected to be realized to help a grand review of 10,000 men near here early in June. Gen. O'Neil is not here, but is expected. Col. Star is in New York organizing for a review. They are quiet, but anxious for the Presidential campaign, defiant of either party, but want money.

Four soldiers lay on a corpse, expiring power when a small amount of water is poured upon it. A couple of pints poured upon 200 ounces of powder would produce an explosion equal to that of five thousand pounds of gunpowder or five hundred pounds of nitro-glycerine.

Memo in Copenhagen.—In February, the funds supplied in the Second Presbyterian Church cost $3,760 per annum. Trinity Church pays $2,700 for its music, while Albert Presbyterian Church allows $2,500 for the same. One choir numbers sixty-four singers.

Rev. Mr. Penson.—A few years since P. T. Barnum wrote this distinguished lady, offering him $10,000 per annum if he would lecture for him in America, in reply to which Mr. Penson referred him for an answer to the 13th chapter of Acts and 10th verse: "O full of all subtilty had all mightier, thou child of the devil, thou enemy of all righteousness, wilt thou not cease to pervert the right ways of the Lord?"

Pneumonia, or grippe, the material now used in manufacturing lead pencils, is obtained from a mountain in Siberia—the deposit in Cumberland, England, which was used at first, having been exhausted. The present source of supply has only been made use of since 1865, and it is estimated that it cannot be exhausted in a thousand years.

Chancery will be interested to hear that the Aboriginal Black Eleven are daily expected to arrive in England from Sydney. Before leaving Australia they played a match with the Army and Navy Eleven, and had the best of it. The names of the Aborigines are Bullocky, Tiger, Red Cap, Mullagh, Cuzens, Old King Cole, Dick a Dick, Twopenny, Jim Crow and Lawrence.

William Munnay, a retired publican, aged 78, while walking along Basinghall street, London, stepped upon the long dress of a lady, and was thrown to the ground. The lady walked on, and a crowd gathered. The police and some men lifted the old man and carried him to the hospital, where he died soon after from the effects of a fracture of his right thigh bone. A coroner's jury returned a verdict of "accidental death."

The Berlin correspondent of the London Times writes:—After many experiments, we are given to understand the Prussian military chemists have succeeded in precipitating the explosive liquid known as nitro-glycerine, and reducing it to a solid. The advantage of this transformation is that its combustibility is considerably diminished, while its force remains unimpaired. The terrific substance, so long unavailable for any purposes other than where the utmost caution could be observed, is thus rendered more manageable and fitted for military use. Grenades filled with, and shot from guns of moderate calibre, are said to have smashed the strongest culmets that ever covered the sides of an iron cased ship. Supposing this to be confirmed, what we may well ask, will the new monster gun be capable of doing?

DEADLY EFFECTS OF THE CLEVERELL EXPLOSION.—Perhaps the unobjectionable summary will convey some idea of the deadly effects of this atrocity: Six persons were killed "outright"; six more died from its effects, according to the coroner's inquests; five, in addition, owe their deaths indirectly to this means; one young woman is in a madhouse; forty mothers were prematurely confined, and twenty of their babes died from the effects of the explosion on the women; others of the children are dwarfed and unhealthy; one mother is now a raving maniac; 120 persons were wounded; fifty went into St. Bartholomew's, Grey's-Inn Lane, and King's College Hospitals; fifteen are permanently injured, with loss of eyes, legs, arms, etc.; besides $20,000 worth of damage to person and property. Such was the horrifying and pitiable devastation caused by that one barrel of gunpowder.

THE BEST COUGH MEDICINE!

IS THE WORLD:

DR. JODIN'S FRENCH COUGH LEVERS

SHOULD be resorted to in all cases of Cough, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Catarrh, Croup, Colds, Asthma, Shortness of Breath, and all disorders of the Throat and Lungs.

They are recommended with confidence to Ministers, School teachers, public Speakers, Singers, Auctioneers, &c. The Levers have been thoroughly tested in practice, and without a doubt, are better than any similar medicine yet introduced to the public.

READ THE FOLLOWING:

Halifax, N.S., Nov. 16, 1867.

I have given Dr. Jodin's French Cough Levers a full trial, and have little hesitation in saying that for a relief from hoarseness and sore throat, I much prefer them to either Bryan's or Brown's.

T. W. CASEY,

Lecturer to the R.W.G.L. of I.O. of G. Temple.

Napanea, November 28, 1867.

I have used Dr. Jodin's French Cough Levers with great satisfaction and can confidently say, after testing them for weeks in special service, that I think them better than any other.

JOHN S. CLARKE, Wesleyan Minister.

Toronto, February 23, 1868.

I have used Dr. Jodin's French Cough Levers with great comfort before and after speaking. Some of my friends tried them also, and there is but one opinion, viz: they are invaluable to singers and public speakers. I consider your Levers the best remedy in the world for hoarseness and throat disorders. Please send me one box more.

THOMAS McMURRAY,

Agent and Lecturer of the "Canadian Temperance Alliance."

* These Levers are prepared with the greatest care, as to cleanliness, being entirely free from gritty substances.

BLAKELY'S VERMIFUGE CANDIES.

They are justly celebrated for the expulsion of worms from children, and contain only vegetable ingredients. The most wonderful cures have been effected by them, and they excel all others at present known.

My child, fifteen months old, passed 82 worms after taking your worm candies, all the large size from six to thirteen inches long.

MRS. ANNA WASSON, Napanea, Ont.

MR. JAMES BLAKELY,

Dear Sir—I have tried your Vermifuge Candies several times and found them the best ever made to expel worms. Besides they are so pleasant to the taste that the most delicate child will take them willingly.

BROOKS BAKER, Napanea.

* Mothers make one trial.

For sale at Dentley's, Souter & Co's, and C. H. Simpson's, Newmarket, and all Druggists throughout the Dominion.
